

Tagline

Heads and tails of true crimes in the arts and culture.

Logline

The investigation of true crime cases related to high profile personalities of the arts, culture, politics and history whether they were the victims or the victimizers.

Storyline

Many personalities of the arts, culture, politics and history have been involved in scandals – infidelities, crimes (murders, suicides, robberies et al), political incidents, etc. – either as victims or victimizers of true crimes. Solving the mystery behind each crime drives our series. It allows us to unfold their lives, their work, their background and the period of time when the crime took place.

Through the series we promote art and culture while we entertain and surprise the audience while they discover good and twisted mystery true crime stories based on real facts.
