Synopsis

After the fall of meteorite fragments and extraterrestrial material that impact the earth, bizarre events occur in the different spaces and times of the collisions. These events cause ancient Aztec prophecies to be fulfilled.

Anthology composed of nine segments presenting characters who face mythical, fantastic and terrifying situations, revealing dimensions and textures, rarely explored in Latin American cinema.

AZTECH is an ambitious film proposal directed and produced by some of the bests director in Mexico specialized in fantasy and Sci Fi.

- The AZTECH anthology is comprised of segments that explore dimensions and fantastic textures rarely addressed in Latin American Cinema.
- AZTECH comes to life during a crisis of the genre in Mexico. This production of this independent film is a success to the genre and it offers a new potential for the SciFi genre in Mexico.
- AZTECH was filmed in Mexico including the city and several States like Yucatán, Morelos, Veracruz and Estado de México. It also has locations in NY and Vancouver.

Synopsis

Gabby is an American publicist that is working in Guadalajara for a Mexican inspired clothing company named Catrina. Distance from LA is great as she just broke with her fiancée, Rowan, due to his infidelity.

In Mexico Paco, a young cook that dreams of making it big manages a food truck, a very popular one. Along with his friends Chuy and Eric they are looking for the best. Just in front of their truck works Laura, Paco's sister, she works at the famous Don Juan restaurant. Unfortunately for Don Juan has an issue and the owner needs Paco to help him out to cook for the Catrina team.

From the moment Gabby and Paco cross sights they are attracted, and with the "help" of his friends plus a lot of tequila they end up sleeping at Paco's house. But the next morning all is odd, Paco lives with his Mom, Grandma, and little sister! Gabby just wants to leave, and forget all. But later that day she learns that Paco's truck exploded and she goes to help him. A relationship begins that will take Paco to LA where he will meet his inlaws, Gabby's ex boyfriend and a new culture and language he doesn't speak, but in the end, who speaks love?

Synopsis

A high official of the Mexican political system decides to fake the capture and death of The Coyote, Mexico's Public Enemy Numero Uno. To make this happen, he cuts a deal with his family and informs them that he needs a dead body to pose as a double. Topillero, a hit-man with an unconventional sense of discipline and honesty, is tasked with executing the plan along with Blas, his right hand. On this journey he is reunited with the wife and son he abandoned years ago. Gang Family is a road-movie about gangs and anti-hero families, filled with pitch-black humor and a particular resemblance to Mexico's present-day reality.

Synopsis

This story is about the Mexican singer Chavela Vargas and the Spanish poet Federico Garcia Lorca. Poetry and music are the places of their meetings. Chavela Vargas recounts that when she lived in the Student's Residence of Madrid, in the same room where Federico Garcia Lorca lived so many years ago, she received the visit of a yellow bird that contained the soul of the Spanish poet. The ninety year old woman and hispanic emblem, fulfills her last wish in her last year of life: to make a tribute to the allegorical poet from Granada and finally, to meet once again, her beloved friend in the ranks of death. The Nightingale and the Night is a documentary that reveals the transition of Chavela from life to death, her union with Federico, dissolving the borders between these two worlds and between reality and dreams.

Together, Chavela and Federico, create an immortal universe.
