A FAMILY, A STORY, A NEW NATION

Synopsis

A Mexican fiction series that narrates the saga of a family during the 18th century fragmented by the prevailing "legitimacy" and "illegitimacy"; a family whose ideas and passions intertwine, over time and generations, with the din of the War of Independence, and culminate in the turbulent years of the Mexican Revolution.

The Minondo is the story of the daily lives of the people, seen through everything that is happening to this family whose members are well-known personalities of the clergy, politics, the elite... Spanish, Creole and Mexicans of the time. Thus, the presence of Spain in Mexico, the mestizaje, the acculturation in Catholicism, the transition from Creole patriotism to nationalism, the dispute over the earth, segregation, repression and assimilation of modern thoughts, are the fabric in which Los Minondo will fight to survive, showing the diversity of the social mosaic of Mexico over three centuries. The fate, secrets and intrigues of these three characters and their offspring, will lead us through crucial events in the history of Mexico and allow us to reconstruct their social and cultural implications.

THEY HAVE A GOOD OFFER TO MAKE YOU!

Season 1

Finding a property for each client is the beginning of a business that not only involves spaces, but also emotions. Maricarmen, Rebeca and Claudia know it well. In the two seasons of Real Estate, we can see thousands of stories that each place keeps. An inspiring and often dramatic series that focuses on the woman of today, who is constantly seeking the balance between the work, family and affection.

Season 2

Now that Rebeca has left for Spain, Maricarmen is looking for a way to fix the chaos in her life and cope with the occupations of real estate. Claudia, her new partner, has a personality opposite to hers, so the clashes are constant. Despite their differences, the web of situations they are facing leads them to rethink many issues, set aside their own interests, and learn that love, secrets, and dreams are not private property.

WE ARE ALL, TO A GREATER OR LESS EXTENT, FANS OF SOMEONE.

Season 1

At some point we have all irrationally loved someone who is not by our side. Sometimes we are content to contemplate him from a distance; other times, we are seeking a meeting. Being a "fan" of someone always proposes a relationship that is unequal by definition: one loves in advance, falls in love with a projection, of something that his or her mind has invented.

I am your fan is not a story of great loves or unreachable idols, but of characters who show us how we can become obsessed with someone who is by our side but for some mysterious reasons, we cannot access. It is a (not so) classic love story, full of loneliness, encounters and small great joys.

Season 2

Time has passed and many things have changed. Charly has turned thirty and finally wants to give direction to her life, which has become more stable, organized and somewhat routine; She even seeks to give herself a new chance in love. Nico, for his part, is in a moment of apparent stability and with a job that suits him perfectly: he grows organic fruits and vegetables, and he has no doubts: he wants to be a father and start a family. He has moved on with his life and feels that he has already overcome Charly, but one day she unexpectedly returns to his life, just as Nico is about to take the next step with Caro, his girlfriend. During this season, Charly and Nico's paths cross sporadically when each one, on their own, is seeking love.

EVERY MAN HAS HIS FINAL HOUR.

Synopsis

XY is the series that showed a new way of doing fiction on Mexican television, with the innovativeness of its theme and the quality of its realization. Starring Juan Carlos Barreto, Eduardo Arroyuelo and Claudio Lafarga, among others, it shows throughout its three seasons, the drama that several characters live while writing in a magazine and making it the most read, the most publicized and therefore, reflecting in its numbers, the vicissitudes of the contemporary man.

In the second season of XY, the magazine makes the inevitable leap to electronic media with new alliances and positions. Roberto Lanzagorta arrives, an entrepreneur from the north of the country, a charismatic leader, who is now the new head of Artemio and his team. Along with him, new members and stories join XY's writing.

Throughout the previous two seasons, XY showed different situations, contexts and attitudes of the modern man, always trying to answer questions like How manly are you? Or What to do to become a man? Now it's the time to complete the exam that started a long time ago.

EVIL DO NOT KNOW OF GENERATIONS.

Synopsis

Before you understand life and its principles, you have to understand death. That is the premise of detectives Alfonso Guardia and Jonas García to solve the grim cases of violence presented to them.

"Guardia-García", during its 10 one-hour episodes , portrays the irretrievable and complicated alliance between two forensics, Alfonso Guardia and Jonas García. The first is recognized for his extensive experience and intuition in case resolution: he has captured the most brutal serial killers; however, the cost has been the distancing of his daughter and wife, which is disturbing him.

García, a talented student of the forensic sciences career, is forced to work with his long-time inspiration . His stubbornness and inexperience teach him to become humble and learn to practice his profession. Together they make a complex, but effective team.

SCIENCE OR FAITH?

Season 1

A deadly epidemic outbreak affects the southern part of the country. The health authorities send a group of three young doctors to vaccinate people from all over the region and teach them preventive health measures. During their journey they pass through a town called Aguazul, where the population mysteriously resists their visit. Even the doctor in charge of this town warns them not to try to vaccinate its inhabitants, but the young people do not listen and embark on the path to what will be the last town of their route.

Their arrival marks the beginning of a series of unusual events, and as they enter this strange world "in the name of science", they witness phenomena out of reality, all related to a famous "Child", who confronts his rigid scientific arguments against the possibilities of faith.

Season 2

In the second season, the pilgrims continue to come to Aguazul in search of healing, but the "Child" grows weaker every day. The arrival of a journalist threatens to open the cult to the world, so strange and violent events begin to occur in the town and the camp. Now, the life of the "Child" is hanging by a thread.

¿TRAITOROUS THEIR ROOTS OR THE VICTIM OF HIS CIRCUMSTANCES?

Synopsis

She came from the southern region of the current state of Veracruz and was known as Nahua woman, Malinche or Doña Marina. She had an outstanding performance in the Spanish conquest of the Mexica empire, serving as interpreter, advisor and intermediary for Hernán Cortés. Despite her intelligence and astute, she became a symbol of betrayal before the invaders, but also the mother of the miscegenation that gave rise to Mexican culture. She is one of the most vilified characters in the history of the country, although we know little about her passions and interests, until now.

Synopsis

A comedy drama which portrays the complexities of human relationships from a group doing psychological therapy sessions.. Patients revolves around the traumas of five participants – and their no less neurotic therapist – who seek to resolve their anxieties, accept their manias and heal their relationships.

Marco, the protagonist, begins a new life with his father, who makes him reflect on how he relates to the people he loves, and questions his ability to bring order to the lives of his patients. In an intimate tone and with touches of humor, the lives of Marco and his patients float during therapies, projecting conflicts, problems and dissatisfactions of our current society.

In each episode, the characters are sharing their emotional stories, revelations and twists, and in this sense, the series proposes a realistic resolution of conflicts leading to growth and healthy human relationships.

BECAUSE DIFFERENCES MAKE US HUMAN.

Synopsis

Diversity enriches and opens our minds to the world. Getting to know the others, listening to them and respecting them, even if they are thinking differently, it is a benefit to us all. In a serious approach to the different ways of sexuality, Canal Once opens a door to the respect for diversity, because every way of being, thinking and living is worthy of respect.

To generate tolerance you need to know. Therefore, from the testimonies of people with very different lifestyles, but with the same gender identity, we learn the problems they are facing, the taboos that society still has on issues of diversity, as well as the daily conquests they have achieved towards the full exercise of their citizen rights.

In "We are Diverse" we observe that, even if we look different in appearance, deep down we all seek happiness.

A series dedicated to indigenous radios. In the course of six episodes we get to know, through bilingual speakers and local music, the idiosyncratic aspects of multiple regions of Mexico and the rich multiculturalism of indigenous cultural radios, which are in many regions the only existing means of communication and interaction.

To show the importance of this medium, we visit indigenous cultural radios from Copainalá, Chiapas, to Etchojoa, Sonora; from Guachochi, Chihuahua, to Jamiltepec, Oaxaca; and Jesus Maria, Nayarit, to San Quentin, Baja California. In these places the important and supporting work of the National Institute of Indigenous Peoples (INPI) stands out.

Let's hope that the radio never turns off, that never ceases to sound.

IN THE WORLD OF ADDICTIONS WE ARE ALL PART.

Synopsis

This documentary series is entering the world of drugs in Mexico City, in which people of different ages and genders are using narcotics without thinking about the consequences. The talented performers of "Endless Death", Paulina del Paso, Tufic Makhoulf, Lucía Gajá, Emilio Cantón, Paco Guerrero, Alejandra Islas and Sergio Muñoz, have put their stamp on each program by presenting success and failure stories through interviews and shocking testimonials in the real environment of the protagonists.

The "Endless Death" series is breaking down various myths by reaching out to people of all kinds and social conditions who live trapped in addictions: workers, unemployed, people on the street, single, parents, students, citizens without a diploma... some in rehabilitation therapy, others hospitalized, evicted and even inmates, who show us essential aspects of their daily life, their personality and addiction in their own homes, rehabilitation centers, workplaces, cafes, night restaurants, bars, streets and means of transport, places and contexts from where they share their situation and reflect on the harmful consequences of drug use and, above all their struggle to deal with and eradicate their disease.

Synopsis

Growing up Together has as its central theme the harmonious development of primary school children in relation to issues and situations that make them vulnerable under risky and violent circumstances. The show focuses on infants parents and teachers alike by addressing the contexts of assertive management and expression of emotions in children, helping them to regulate and control their impulses, promoting human values, self-esteem, personal security and social integration, handling bullying, building harmonious, peaceful and inclusive family relationships, and seeking a culture of peace and respect for gender equity.

Growing up together emerged from the success of the Secretariat of Public Education's National School Coexistence Program, which managed to reduce violent behavior among girls and boys in primary schools by 27% and improved the school climate by 30% in 90,000 schools. The project involved 16 million students at federal level, as well as the entire educational community. The central idea is to continue reducing risky behaviors and improving the quality of life and the integral development of children and young people. This new project is aiming at globally expanding this knowledge through television and ICT to increase the social benefit and care for our children.

Synopsis

In order to impress his school friend Alicia, Francisco tapes a video and uploads it to all the social networks not realizing that this action would be offensive to his classmates and teachers. This is a good enough reason to get suspended for a month from school. His mother is enrolling him to a less strict school to avoid missing his senior year. Francisco regards the new school as being too easy and is trying to become popular by teasing and discriminating his classmates.

Reality soon confronts him when he gets beaten in a hip-hop contest and starts to taste the consequences of his actions. In a constant dialogue with "Me!" his imaginary friend which in reality is his alter ego and in the company of Marce, a punk girl, Jorge labeled as a "criminal" and Leonel a boy with Down's Syndrome, all of whom he met in his new school, Francisco undertakes an adventure of new experiences that will change his view of the world around him and even himself.

A SERIES OF SCIENTIFIC DISCLOSURE,
WHERE KNOWLEDGE BECOMES A WEAPON TO FIGHT OVER CHAOS.

Synopsis

The series chronicles the adventures of Sofia Luna, a young physics student, in her fight against chief villain Otto Van Carpio, who strives to plunge Villa Rugosa into total chaos. Intelligent and science-savvy Sofia is recruited as a Special Agent at the Universal League of Scientists vs. Chief Villains (LUCA). With the help of her little brother, Pato, Sofia Luna gets on a mission to stop the evil plans of Van Carpio and his assistant Bulmaro. The young woman is instructed by Special Agent Juliet, who travels through space aboard the LEIKA 1 ship, and who in turn receives information about what is happening on Earth, by Agent "Y", also from LUCA.

Sofia Luna, Special Agent is a series which combines science, fun and suspense, while conducting scientific experiments. The experiments are explained scientifically in a simple way to enable young viewers to try them at home, under the supervision of an adult to amaze their family and friends. In this series you will find adventure, entertainment, life in space, optical illusions and experiments with laser beams, rockets and much more.

The series has been supervised by Dr Julieta Fierro, researcher at the UNAM Institute of Astronomy and winner of UNESCO's Kalinga Prize for the Popularization of Science, one of the leading authorities in Mexico in her field, who has given her scientific advice on the content and made her acting debut.

Synopsis

The series will make children take a distance from the obvious dimension of the game, the one of winners and losers, away from the brilliant star players and eternal grey substitutes, to spend some time with entertaining stories that take place away from the field from the legendary football fields where the champions are glorified.

In each of its 13 episodes, an element in the context of football will be the trigger of a narrative where the little viewers will identify their own experiences with the ones of the protagonists, regardless of whether they are football fans or not.

The first time on the field, the new teammate, the long-awaited- jersey for the national team, the seemingly unattainable autograph, the lost ball and the unforgettable photo album are just some of the axes on which the chronicles of the Football Players will unfold.
