

Star Line

105x45'

Julieta and Gonzalo found a formula to save their relationship: to split up for three months, with complete freedom to do whatever they want and with whomever they want. The question is what happens when this time is over? Will Julieta and Gonzalo be together again as if nothing ever happened, leaving their stories and romances behind? Free Pass is the story of a couple in crisis, and a solution that will change their lives forever.

Characters

Julieta Ruiz

"Movie-like loves do exist"

While Julieta's used to having the answer to everything, she must learn that there are things which cannot be controlled, such as love. So even though she begins the "free pass" experiment being confident that it is the right thing to solve their crisis with Gonzalo - and indirectly, to make him more "mature" - Julieta will soon realize that it is she who must work out some personality issues as well as discovering she is much more fragile and helpless than she thought she was.

By seeing her attracted to Franco, an enigmatic and tough divorce lawyer, Julieta will feel a new personality takes control over her, much stronger and unleashed. However, there won't be few the barriers which will cloud her judgment. Ricardo's manipulation to gain her love, comments from family and friends about her changes, her obsessive preoccupation with work and above all, Gonzalo's constant reminiscence, will make Julieta feel more patient than therapist.

Gonzalo Hernandez

"If only life was a comic book..."

Despite all his fears, Gonzalo must learn to know who he really is without Julieta once the "free pass" period starts. At first it will be difficult; however, in time he will realize how many opportunities he has left aside, such as music and his passion for comics. And although Julieta's not the one to blame, but his own insecurities and fears, Gonzalo will have to make a difficult decision: live his newly found personality with Julieta, or start from scratch with "the blonde", an important and old love now turned into a single mother, with whom he could get to fulfill his dream of starting a family.

Franco Zanetti

"Fairy tales are just ... stories"

Despite believing Isabel shares his same point of view of no expectations about love, Franco will receive a big surprise when she asks to formalize the relationship and move in together, sliding the idea of getting married later. Overwhelmed, Franco flirts with Julieta one night, without knowing he will meet her again as Isabel's psychologist. Although his attraction to Julieta seems harmless at first, not only it will soon jeopardize his relationship with Isabel, but also his inflexible beliefs about the impossibility of falling in love.

Sofia Villarroel (The Blonde)

"Every clouds has a silver lining"

When she meets Gonzalo again, "the blonde" feels she's recovered a good friend, but gradually she begins to have deeper feelings for him and gets embarked on an intense relationship. Confused, "the blonde" tries to convince herself that it's impossible to fall in Love with Gonzalo because he will come back with Julieta after the "free pass", so she will do everything to avoid Samuel from getting attached to Gonzalo. Not only Samuel will idealize Gonzalo as the father he never had, but "the blonde" wants to live that fantasy. Their problems will increase when Amaro comes back wanting to regain Samuel's custody, just when "the blonde" and Gonzalo are together.

Ricardo Felman

“Thank you God for Prozac!”

After getting romantically involved with Julieta and not being able to win her heart, Ricardo thinks his love life is a disaster, but everything will change when he meets the unpredictable Bernardita, currently in love with Gonzalo and who will ask him to join forces to separate them during the “free pass” time. Although at first Ricardo may think she is a maniac, little by little, he will notice they both share the same tastes and weirdness, getting to understand that love is not always as rational as he thinks.

Bernardita Patino

“Relax, it won’t hurt...”

Once Gonzalo starts the “free pass”, Bernardita will size the opportunity to get closer to Gonzalo, first as friend and confidant, and then, as his “friend with benefits”. However, when Gonzalo wants to put an end to their relationship, Bernardita will show her darkest side, becoming jealous and manipulative, when forming an alliance with Gonzalo’s mother by pretending to be the perfect daughter-in-law. After this plan fails, she will convince Ricardo to join her to separate Gonzalo from Julieta, without knowing Ricardo is the perfect “freak prince” she’s always wanted.

